About This Report

Resiliency in the Face of Challenge

Federal employees remain committed to the missions of their agencies despite a number of challenges, including continued pay freezes, agency furloughs, and a climate of uncertainty. Federal employees across government feel the effects of these challenges. The benefit of the Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey (FEVS) is the opportunity it provides employees to share their insights across all organizational levels and climates. Employee views are important throughout government, from hiring and retention to organizational effectiveness, because they present a broad diversity of opinions.

This management report enables agency leaders to identify both strengths and challenges by looking for patterns and themes in their results. Throughout the report we have highlighted areas for action as well as areas for celebration, allowing agencies to gain a better understanding of their employee views. This broad spectrum of employee perspectives is one reason why the FEVS is a powerful tool for change.

Multiple Perspectives of Your Agency's Results

This report provides a broad but interconnected picture of your results, and includes...

Strengths & Challenges: Survey items with the highest percent positive and the highest percent negative responses.

Increases & Decreases: Survey items that increased or decreased by 5 or more percentage points since 2012.

Items to Celebrate & Caution Items: Survey items that increased or decreased by 2 or more percentage points between 2011-2012 and 2012-2013.

Above & Below: Survey items that lead or trail the Federal Government average by 5 or more percentage points.

Indices:

- Human Capital Assessment and Accountability Framework (HCAAF): measures of progress in meeting human capital strategy objectives
- Employee Engagement: measures of the conditions likely to lead to engagement
- Global Satisfaction: a comprehensive indicator of employees' overall work satisfaction

Work/Life Programs: A breakdown of participation rates and satisfaction ratings.

Diversity: Your agency's survey respondent characteristics.

Appendices: A set of appendices that show results benchmarked against agency high/low results and percentile scores; a trend analysis of results over time; a Decision Aid; three tables containing agency component scores on the HCAAF, Employee Engagement, and Global Satisfaction indices; and Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) for the 2013 survey.

Comparisons to past survey results and governmentwide averages are included throughout the report to ensure meaningful and action-oriented content. These comparisons highlight areas that have improved or declined, and provide benchmarks for interpreting the 2013 results. This year, agency components with the highest and lowest scores are highlighted in the HCAAF, Employee Engagement and Global Satisfaction sections to encourage information sharing across the agency.

What do the Survey Results Represent?

The results represent a snapshot in time of the perceptions of the Federal workforce. Statisticians weighted survey data to adjust for differences between characteristics of the respondents and the population of Federal employees surveyed. The governmentwide results have a plus or minus one percent margin of error.

Results at a Glance

Strengths & Increases

- 46 items had positive ratings of 65 percent or more
- 14 items increased by 5 or more percentage points since the 2012 survey

Challenges & Decreases

- 1 item had a negative rating of 35 percent or more
- 0 items decreased by 5 or more percentage points since the 2012 survey

Items to Celebrate

- 0 items increased by 2 or more percentage points between 2011-2012 and 2012-2013

Caution Items

- 3 items decreased by 2 or more percentage points between 2011-2012 and 2012-2013

Understanding Your Results

Positive Ratings

The sum of two positive categories (i.e., Strongly Agree/Agree)

Negative Ratings

The sum of two negative categories (i.e., Strongly Disagree/Disagree)

Applying Rules of Thumb

- 65% or more positive is considered a strength
- 35% or more negative is considered a challenge
- 30% or more neutral suggests uncertainty, presenting an opportunity for communication
- A difference of 5 percentage points or more is considered notable

Strengths

Acknowledging the strengths that survey results reveal not only gives your agency cause for celebration, but also shows where organizational practices are most effective. Your agency's 10 highest percent positive responses are displayed in Figure 1, along with the 2013 governmentwide percent positive for comparison.

Challenges

Negative responses to survey items are powerful indicators of dissatisfaction. A review of your agency’s challenges, in conjunction with strengths, presents a more comprehensive picture of emerging issues and themes in your agency which may aid in identifying areas to target in the action planning process.

Figure 2 displays your agency’s 10 highest percent negative responses, along with the 2013 governmentwide percent negative for comparison.

Increases & Decreases

Agency Items That Increased and Decreased the Most from 2012

Survey items with increasingly positive responses may indicate the success of agency initiatives or plans of action, while declining positive responses may signal areas in need of targeted action. Table 1 displays the items that had the largest changes (5 or more percentage points) in percent positive rating. If your agency had more than 10 items that changed by 5 percentage points or more, only the 10 items with the largest changes are shown.

Decreased the Most

Your agency had no items that decreased by 5 percentage points or more since 2012.

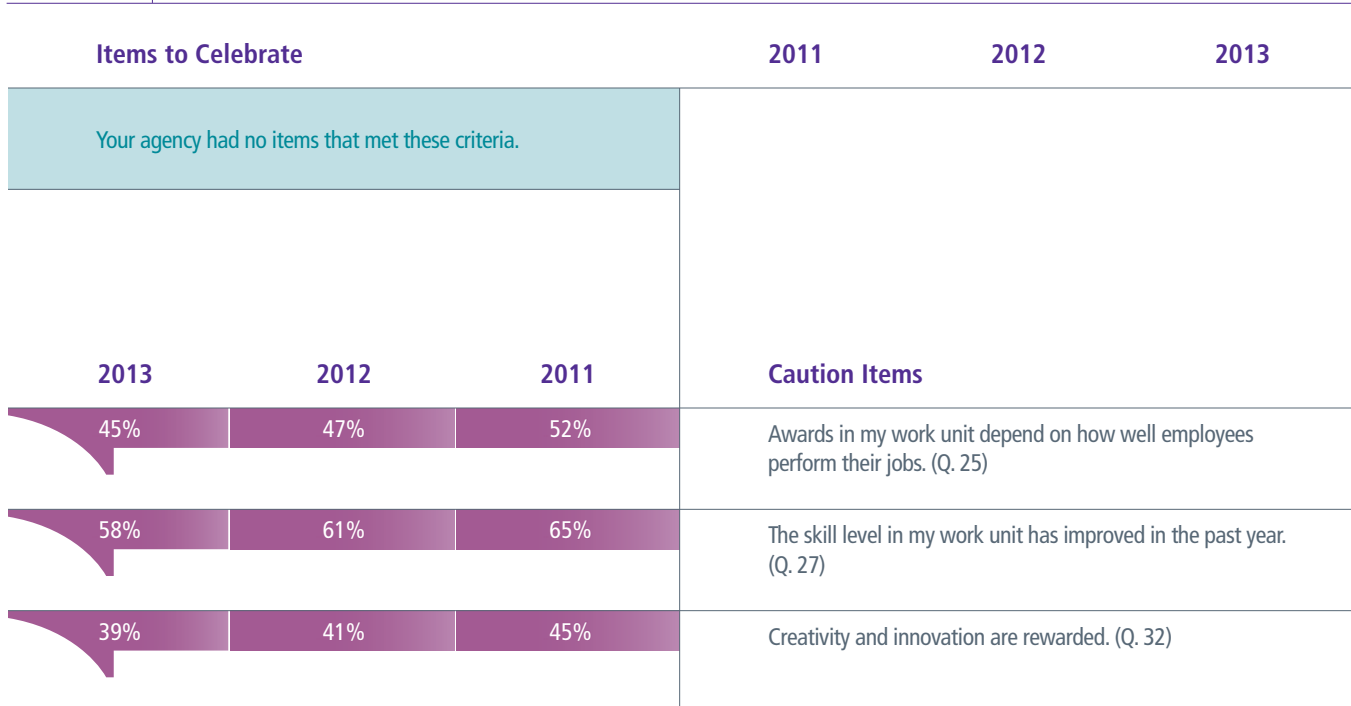

Items to Celebrate & Caution Items

Increases are often the direct result of an agency’s specifically targeted action; however, sometimes increases or decreases may occur without direct intent. For example, leadership changes, new programs, or communication efforts may have an impact on survey results. Please review this section with those ideas in mind, and consider communicating any action planning successes with employees.

The “Items to Celebrate” section in Figure 3 highlights items that have increased by 2 or more percentage points across each of the last several survey administrations (from 2011 to 2012 and from 2012 to 2013).

“Caution Items” are highlighted as items that have decreased by 2 or more percentage points across the last several survey administrations (from 2011 to 2012 and from 2012 to 2013). Being aware of downward trends in your results is critical in ensuring that items don’t continue to decrease over time.

Above & Below

Table 2 displays agency results that are 5 or more percentage points higher or lower than the governmentwide average, and may assist in highlighting areas of success as well as areas of concern. If your agency had more than 10 items that differ from the average, only the 10 items with the largest differences are shown.

Trailing the Government

Your agency had no items that were 5 percentage points or more below the Governmentwide average.

Indices

Human Capital Assessment and Accountability Framework (HCAAF)

The HCAAF indices were created to guide governmentwide efforts to support agency mission results with strong human capital strategies, and they provide consistent metrics for measuring progress toward HCAAF objectives. For more information on these metrics, refer to OPM's website: www.opm.gov/hcaaf_resource_center/assets/hcaaf_ssm.pdf.

Figure 4 shows your agency results with appropriate comparisons for the four HCAAF indices: Leadership and Knowledge Management, Results-Oriented Performance Culture, Talent Management, and Job Satisfaction. This year the agency components with the highest and lowest scores are highlighted to facilitate internal information sharing.

For your reference, Appendix D displays HCAAF Index results for each agency component.

Leadership & Knowledge Management Index

Indicates the extent to which employees hold their leadership in high regard, both overall and on specific facets of leadership. Index made up of items: 10, 35, 36, 51, 52, 53, 55, 56, 57, 61, 64, 66.

Talent Management Index

Indicates the extent to which employees think the organization has the talent necessary to achieve organizational goals. Index made up of items: 1, 11, 18, 21, 29, 47, 68.

Results-Oriented Performance Culture Index

Indicates the extent to which employees believe their organizational culture promotes improvement in processes, products and services, and organizational outcomes. Index made up of items: 12, 14, 15, 20, 22, 23, 24, 30, 32, 33, 42, 44, 65.

Job Satisfaction Index

Indicates the extent to which employees are satisfied with their jobs and various aspects thereof. Index made up of items: 4, 5, 13, 63, 67, 69, 70.

Employee Engagement

An engaged employee is seen as one who is immersed in the content of the job and energized to spend extra effort in job performance. The 2013 Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey does not contain direct measurements of employee engagement such as passion, commitment, and involvement. However, it does include questions that cover most, if not all, of the conditions likely to lead to employee engagement (e.g., leadership, opportunity to use skills). OPM created an index using these items and excluded any items measuring satisfaction in order to differentiate this index from a job satisfaction index.

Figure 5 shows your agency’s results with appropriate comparisons on the Employee Engagement Index and its subfactors: Leaders Lead, Supervisors, and Intrinsic Work Experiences. This year the agency components with the highest and lowest scores are highlighted to facilitate internal information sharing.

For your reference, Appendix E displays Employee Engagement Index results for each agency component.

Global Satisfaction

OPM created the Global Satisfaction Index to provide a more comprehensive indicator of employees' overall work satisfaction. The index is a combination of employees' satisfaction with their jobs, their pay, and their organizations, plus their willingness to recommend their organizations as a good place to work.

Figure 6 shows your agency's results with appropriate comparisons on the Global Satisfaction Index and the items that make up the index. This year the agency components with the highest and lowest index scores are highlighted to facilitate internal information sharing.

For your reference, Appendix F displays Global Satisfaction Index results for each agency component.

Work/Life Programs

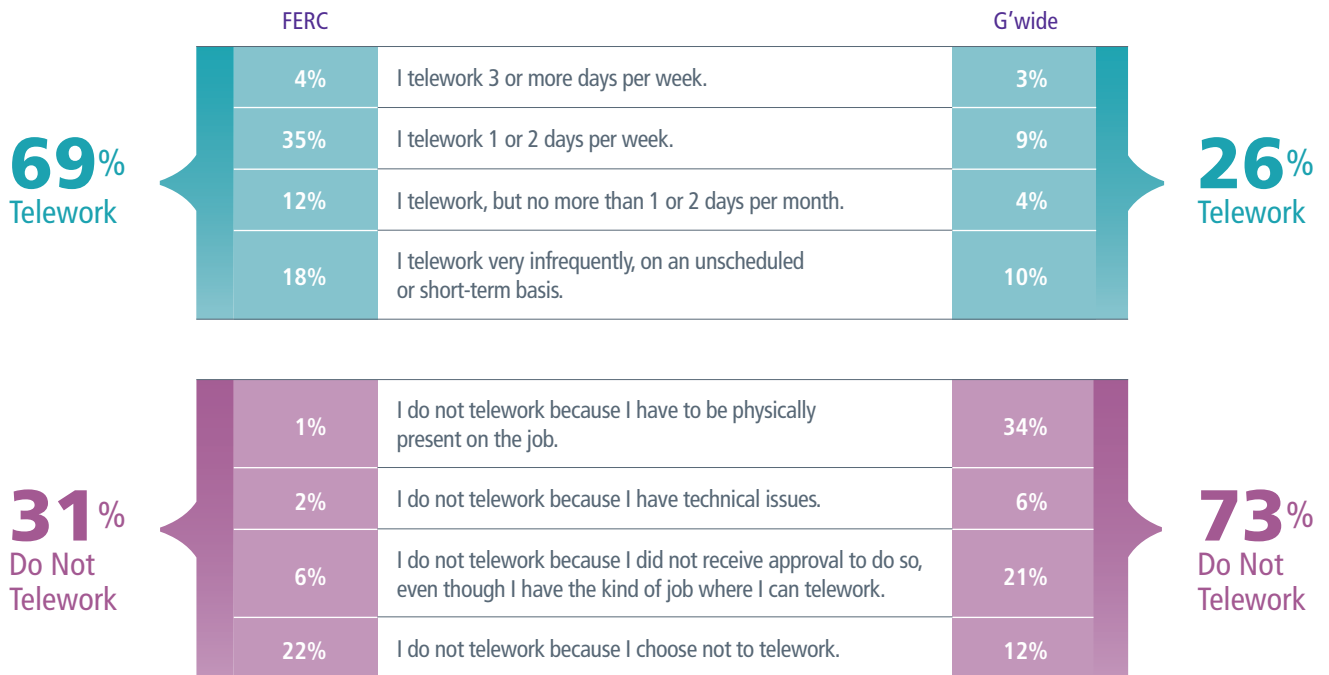

Work/Life programs provide employees with resources to effectively balance their responsibilities both inside and outside of the workplace. The Work/Life program participation and satisfaction results for your agency are displayed in this section, beginning with telework in Figures 7 and 8. Participation and satisfaction ratings for all other work/life programs are listed in Tables 3 and 4.

The Telework Enhancement Act of 2010 encouraged Federal agencies to expand their use of telework as a strategic management tool. Telework can be an important factor in attracting and retaining the best employees, improving morale and increasing the capacity to achieve agency mission and goals. This critical tool can also help reduce the cost of transit, in addition to providing flexibility in severe weather circumstances, emergencies, or other workplace disruptions. Figures 7 and 8 provide a snapshot of your agency's teleworking status and are helpful in determining whether or not more effort should be focused on increasing telework in your agency.

Note: The Work/Life program satisfaction results include only employees who indicated that they participated in the program.

Diversity

Characteristics of Your Agency's Survey Respondents

Understanding the diverse characteristics of your employee population can aid workforce planning, recruiting, training, and the choice of work/life programs and flexibilities. Figure 9 displays a few of the attributes of your agency's workforce.

Appendix A

Item Results and Benchmarks

Your agency's percent positive for each survey item is listed in the left column, and benchmarks are listed on the right for comparison purposes. The benchmark scores were compiled from the results for Departments and large agencies with 800 or more employees. Note that these benchmarks are based on 37 agencies where Army, Army Corps of Engineers, Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps, and Other Defense agencies/activities are rolled into Department of Defense.

The following benchmark scores are listed to allow you to compare your agency's percent positive with the results of other agencies:

The Highest and Lowest Percent Positive Scores

Represent the agency that scored the highest/lowest for that survey item.

The 90th, 50th, 10th Percentiles

Compare your percent positive score with the percentile scores for each item. If your agency had a positive score of 83 percent for an item and the benchmark for the 90th percentile was 80 percent positive, then you can conclude that your agency is above the 90th percentile of agency scores for that item. In other words, your agency scored higher than at least 90 percent of the benchmark agencies.

Appendix B

Trend Analysis: 2010 vs. 2011 vs. 2012 vs. 2013 Results

Appendix B consists of a set of trend tables displaying your agency’s positive results for each item for the last four survey administrations. The last column indicates whether or not there were significant increases, decreases, or no changes in positive ratings from 2010 to 2011 (first arrow), from 2011 to 2012 (second arrow), and from 2012 to 2013 (last arrow). Arrows slanting up indicate a statistically significant increase, and arrows slanting down indicate a statistically significant decrease. Horizontal arrows indicate the change was not statistically significant. For example, symbols →↗↗ indicate there was no significant change in positive ratings from 2010 to 2011, but there was a significant increase in positive ratings from 2011 to 2012, and from 2012 to 2013. Similarly, symbols ↘→→ indicate there was a significant decrease from 2010 to 2011, but there were no significant changes in positive ratings from 2011 to 2012 or from 2012 to 2013.

Decision Aid: Transforming Your Results into Action

Agency Results

The Decision Aid was designed to easily identify items that stand out in your agency's results. Items with a high percent positive, high percent negative, or high percent neutral are all equally important to acknowledge when looking through this section and determining where to focus action planning efforts in the future. The shaded cells will direct your attention to any 2013 results that stand out as strengths, challenges, or neutral areas in need of more communication.

Blue Cell

The item is 65 percent positive or higher.

Yellow Cell

The item is 30 percent neutral or higher.

Pink Cell

The item is 35 percent negative or higher.

Look at Your Comparisons

It's also important to compare your 2013 results with your 2012 results; as well as with the governmentwide average. These comparisons are listed in the two columns on the right. Differences of 5 percentage points, in either direction, are considered notable.

2013 Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey FAQs

What Types of Questions are Included in the Survey?

The 2013 survey is identical to the 2012 version. The 98-item survey includes 84 items that measure Federal employees' perceptions about how effectively agencies manage their workforce, as well as 14 demographic items.

The survey is grouped into eight topic areas:

- Personal Work Experiences
- Work Unit
- Agency
- Supervisor/Team Leader
- Leadership
- Satisfaction
- Work/Life Programs
- Demographics

Who Participated?

Full-time and part-time permanent, non-seasonal employees were eligible to participate in the survey.

How Many Employees Participated?

Employees from 37 departments/large agencies and 44 small/independent agencies, comprising 97 percent of the executive branch workforce, participated in this year's survey. More than 376,000 Federal employees participated in the survey, for a governmentwide response rate of 48.2 percent.

How Was the Survey Administered?

The survey was a self-administered Web survey.

When Were Employees Surveyed?

Agency launch dates were organized in two waves this year, with approximately 6-week administration periods beginning April 23rd and April 30th.
