NOTICE OF TECHNICAL CONFERENCE

(January 5, 2007)

On Wednesday, January 24, 2007, at 9:00 am (EST), staff of the Office of Energy Projects will convene a cryogenic design and technical conference regarding Southern LNG, Inc.'s proposed Elba III Terminal Expansion. The cryogenic technical conference will be held in the Hilton Savannah DeSoto hotel. The hotel is located at 15 East Liberty Street, Savannah, Georgia 31401. For hotel details call 912-232-9000.

In view of the nature of critical energy infrastructure information and security issues to be explored, the technical conference will not be open to the public. Attendance at this conference will be limited to existing parties to the proceeding (anyone who has specifically requested to intervene as a party) and to representatives of interested federal, state, and local agencies. Any person planning to attend the January 24th cryogenic conference must register by close of business on Monday, January 22, 2007. Registrations may be submitted either online at <https://www.ferc.gov/whats-new/registration/cryo-conf-form.asp> or by faxing a copy of the form (found at the referenced online link) to 202-208-0353.

All attendees must sign a non-disclosure statement prior to entering the conference. Upon arrival at the hotel, check the reader board in the hotel lobby for venue. For additional information regarding the technical conference, please contact Heather Ferree at 202-502-6414.
