

S. Kennedy Fell

CIO at New York Independent Operator since September 2000 and recently elected Chairman of the North American ISO/RTO CIO Council and Information Technology committee. Previously Executive VP of Product Development for SynQuest Inc, a public software development company in the Supply Chain Optimization market, VP of Development and Strategic IT Planning Sprint Corp, CIO at the aerospace subsidiary of IC Industries, CIO for a major Division of Baker International, and Superintendent of Manufacturing/Material Control for GM responsible for the implementation of GM's first JIT/MRP system implementation at 22 GM Assembly plants located worldwide.

Member of many Who's Who publications. Received a BSBA from Oklahoma City University and a graduate of the Duke University Fuqua School of Business Executive Management Program.